UNITED STATES INTERNATIONAL TRADE COMMISSION
Washington, DC 20436

MEMORANDUM TO THE COMMITTEE ON FINANCE OF THE UNITED STATES
SENATE ON PROPOSED TARIFF LEGISLATION¹

Bill no., sponsor, and sponsor's state: S. 1550 (105th Congress), Senator Chafee (RI).

Companion bill: None.

Title as introduced: To suspend until December 31, 2002, the duty on Benzoic acid, 4-[[[(2,5-dichlorophenyl)amino]carbonyl]-2-[[2-hydroxy-3-[[2-methoxyphenyl)amino]carbonyl]-1-naphthalenyl]-, methyl ester.

Summary of bill:^{2,3}

The bill would amend the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States to suspend, through December 31, 2002, the duty on U.S. imports of benzoic acid, 4-[[[(2,5-dichlorophenyl)amino]carbonyl]-2-[[2-hydroxy-3-[[2-methoxyphenyl)amino]carbonyl]-1-naphthalenyl]azo]-, methyl ester.

Effective date: 15th day after enactment.

Retroactive effect: None.

Statement of purpose:

In introducing this bill along with 12 other duty suspension bills, Senator Chafee stated in the Congressional Record:

The products in question are organic replacements for colorants that use heavy metals--such as lead, molybdenum, chrome, and cadmium--in the plastics and coatings industries. . . [N]one of the organic substitutes in question are produced in the United States, and therefore lifting the current duties will not result in harm to any domestic industry. Rather, suspending the duties will allow our domestic manufacturers to reduce costs, thus maintaining U.S. competitiveness and safeguarding Rhode Island jobs. . . ⁴

⁴ Statement of Senator Chafee, Congressional Record, Nov. 13, 1997, p. S12596.

Product description and uses:

Benzoic acid, 4-[[[(2,5-dichlorophenyl)amino]carbonyl]-2-[[2-hydroxy-3-[[[(2-methoxyphenyl)amino]carbonyl]-1-naphthalenyl]azo]-,methyl ester:

The subject product, known by the trade names 13-3610 NOVOPERM® RED HG3S and 13-3611 NOVOPERM® RED HF3S-70, is a synthetic organic pigment primarily used in agricultural and industrial coating applications. The product is a distinctive orange shade of red, known as C.I. Pigment Red 188, and is noted as an environmentally sound replacement for colorants of similar shades that contain cadmium, chromium, lead, mercury, or molybdenum.

Structure of domestic industry (including competing products):

According to industry sources, there was no domestic production of this product during 1994-96. However, there appears to be domestic production of at least one product that competes on the basis of color as well as applications.⁶ Ciba Specialty Chemicals produces an organic pigment, known by the trade name Irgazin DPP Red BO®, in a similar shade of red (C.I. Pigment Red 254). In 1997 Ciba began domestic production of its pigment at a new facility located in Newport, Delaware; prior to 1997, Irgazin DPP Red BO® was imported to the United States from a Ciba plant in Europe.

⁶ March 13, 1998 conversation with Chris Whiston of Ciba Specialty Chemicals (Newport, DE).

Private-sector views:

The Commission contacted four major pigment companies for industry input on this bill.⁷ Engelhard Corporation and Ciba Specialty Chemicals responded with written comments that can be found in appendix C.⁸ The remaining firms had not provided responses as of the date of this report.

Effect on customs revenue:⁹

Future (1998-2002) effect:	Based on industry sources, ¹⁰ the estimated average revenue loss is expected to be less than $500,000 annually during the period.
Retroactive effect:	None.

Technical comments:

The recommended chemical name of the subject product (CAS No. 61847-48-1) is: benzoic acid, 4-[[[(2,5-dichlorophenyl)amino]carbonyl]-2-[[2-hydroxy-3-[[[(2-methoxyphenyl)amino]carbonyl]-1-naphthalenyl]azo]-, methyl ester. The Commission further recommends inserting the subject chemical's CAS registry number (CAS 61847-48-1) followed by the Color Index (C.I.) name in the article description of the bill to more precisely identify the product.

⁷ On March 1, 1998, Commission staff contacted: Bill Boorman of Sun Chemicals; Michelle Forte of Ciba Specialty Chemicals; Donald Hysell of BASF; and William Staron of Engelhard Corp.

⁸ Fax dated March 10, 1998, from Francis Ardite of Engelhard Corp.; fax dated March 17, 1998, from Michelle Forte of Ciba Specialty Chemicals (see App. C).

⁹ Actual revenue loss may be understated in the event of a significant increase in imports over the duty suspension period.

¹⁰ Estimated by Commission staff based on a Feb. 6, 1998 discussion with a representative of Clariant.

APPENDIX A

TARIFF AND TRADE AGREEMENT TERMS

In the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States (HTS), chapters 1 through 97 cover all goods in trade and incorporate in the tariff nomenclature the internationally adopted Harmonized Commodity Description and Coding System through the 6-digit level of product description. Subordinate 8-digit product subdivisions, either enacted by Congress or proclaimed by the President, allow more narrowly applicable duty rates; 10-digit administrative statistical reporting numbers provide data of national interest. Chapters 98 and 99 contain special U.S. classifications and temporary rate provisions, respectively. The HTS replaced the Tariff Schedules of the United States (TSUS) effective January 1, 1989.

Duty rates in the general subcolumn of HTS column 1 are most-favored-nation (MFN) rates, many of which have been eliminated or are being reduced as concessions resulting from the Uruguay Round of Multilateral Trade Negotiations. Column 1-general duty rates apply to all countries except those enumerated in HTS general note 3(b) (Afghanistan, Cuba, Laos, North Korea, and Vietnam), which are subject to the statutory rates set forth in column 2. Specified goods from designated MFN-eligible countries may be eligible for reduced rates of duty or for duty-free entry under one or more preferential tariff programs. Such tariff treatment is set forth in the special subcolumn of HTS rate of duty column 1 or in the general notes. If eligibility for special tariff rates is not claimed or established, goods are dutiable at column 1-general rates. The HTS does not enumerate those countries as to which a total or partial embargo has been declared.

The Generalized System of Preferences (GSP) affords nonreciprocal tariff preferences to developing countries to aid their economic development and to diversify and expand their production and exports. The U.S. GSP, enacted in title V of the Trade Act of 1974 for 10 years and extended several times thereafter, applies to merchandise imported on or after January 1, 1976 and before the close of June 30, 1998. Indicated by the symbol "A", "A*", or "A+" in the special subcolumn, the GSP provides duty-free entry to eligible articles the product of and imported directly from designated beneficiary developing countries, as set forth in general note 4 to the HTS.

The Caribbean Basin Economic Recovery Act (CBERA) affords nonreciprocal tariff preferences to developing countries in the Caribbean Basin area to aid their economic development and to diversify and expand their production and exports. The CBERA, enacted in title II of Public Law 98-67, implemented by Presidential Proclamation 5133 of November 30, 1983, and amended by the Customs and Trade Act of 1990, applies to merchandise entered, or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption, on or after January 1, 1984. Indicated by the symbol "E" or "E*" in the special subcolumn, the CBERA provides duty-free entry to eligible articles, and reduced-duty treatment to certain other articles, which are the product of and imported directly from designated countries, as set forth in general note 7 to the HTS.

Free rates of duty in the special subcolumn followed by the symbol "IL" are applicable to products of Israel under the United States-Israel Free Trade Area Implementation Act of 1985 (IFTA), as provided in general note 8 to the HTS.

Preferential nonreciprocal duty-free or reduced-duty treatment in the special subcolumn followed by the symbol "J" or "J*" in parentheses is afforded to eligible articles the product of designated beneficiary countries under the Andean Trade Preference Act (ATPA), enacted as title II of Public Law 102-182 and implemented by Presidential Proclamation 6455 of July 2, 1992 (effective July 22, 1992), as set forth in general note 11 to the HTS.

Preferential or free rates of duty in the special subcolumn followed by the symbol "CA" are applicable to eligible goods of Canada, and rates followed by the symbol "MX" are applicable to eligible goods of Mexico, under the North American Free Trade Agreement, as provided in general note 12 to the HTS and implemented effective January 1, 1994 by Presidential Proclamation 6641 of December 15, 1993. Goods must originate in the NAFTA region under rules set forth in general note 12(t) and meet other requirements of the note and applicable regulations.

Other special tariff treatment applies to particular products of insular possessions (general note 3(a)(iv)), products of the West Bank and Gaza Strip (general note 3(a)(v)), goods covered by the Automotive Products Trade Act (APTA) (general note 5) and the Agreement on Trade in Civil Aircraft (ATCA) (general note 6), articles imported from freely associated states (general note 10), pharmaceutical products (general note 13), and intermediate chemicals for dyes (general note 14).

The General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade 1994 (GATT 1994), pursuant to the Agreement Establishing the World Trade Organization, is based upon the earlier GATT 1947 (61 Stat. (pt. 5) A58; 8 UST (pt. 2) 1786) as the primary multilateral system of disciplines and principles governing international trade. Signatories' obligations under both the 1994 and 1947 agreements focus upon most-favored-nation treatment, the maintenance of scheduled concession rates of duty, and national treatment for imported products; the GATT also provides the legal framework for customs valuation standards, "escape clause" (emergency) actions, antidumping and countervailing duties, dispute settlement, and other measures. The results of the Uruguay Round of multilateral tariff negotiations are set forth by way of separate schedules of concessions for each participating contracting party, with the U.S. schedule designated as Schedule XX.

Pursuant to the Agreement on Textiles and Clothing (ATC) of the GATT 1994, member countries are phasing out restrictions on imports under the prior "Arrangement Regarding International Trade in Textiles" (known as the Multifiber Arrangement (MFA)). Under the MFA, which was a departure from GATT 1947 provisions, importing and exporting countries negotiated bilateral agreements limiting textile and apparel shipments, and importing countries could take unilateral action in the absence or violation of an agreement. Quantitative limits had been established on imported textiles and apparel of cotton, other vegetable fibers, wool, man-made fibers or silk blends in an effort to prevent or limit market disruption in the importing countries. The ATC establishes notification and safeguard procedures, along with other rules concerning the customs treatment of textile and apparel shipments, and calls for the eventual complete integration of this sector into the GATT 1994 over a ten-year period, or by Jan. 1, 2005.
